DETAILED ACTION

1. The Applicants' preliminary amendment filed on March 11, 2004 is acknowledged. Claims 4-5 are amended. Now, Claims 1-5 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In Claim 1 (line 9), "1 to 8 carbon atoms" causes confusion because an aromatic hydrocarbon group cannot have as low as one carbon atom.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 1712

5. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fukuda (US 5 059 668).

For Claim 1, Fukuda discloses a gasket rubber product made of a cured material of a fluorosilicone rubber composition comprising a trifluoropropyl-containing organopolysiloxane, a silica-based filler and a catalyst quantity of a curing catalyst. (col. 2, line 46 to col. 3, line 34 and Examples) The specific trifluoropropyl-containing organopolysiloxanes are exemplified in Examples. The amount of the silica-based filler is described in col. 8, line 65 to col. 9, line 21. The rubber product possesses excellent oil resistance and compression set, and can be used as diaphragms, seals (gaskets), etc. (col. 9, line 44 to col. 10, line 3)

For Claims 2-3, “used in contact with a resin” and “wherein the resin is Nylon” are merely intended uses, and do not carry any weights of patentability.

For Claim 4, since Fukuda’s gasket rubber product is substantially the same as that of Applicants’, Examiner has a reasonable basis to believe that both products possess the same properties including those set forth in the instant claim. Since PTO does not have proper means to conduct experiments, the burden of proof is now shifted to Applicants to show otherwise. In re Best, 195 USPQ 430 (CCPA 1977).

For Claim 5, “used as a resin intake manifold gasket” is merely an intended use, and does not carry any weight of patentability.
